ACCREDITATION:
The American College of Gastroenterology is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American College of Gastroenterology designates this enduring material for a maximum of 35 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in this activity.

This CME Self-Assessment Test was prepared for gastroenterologists. The estimated time to complete this CME activity is 35 hours. To obtain Category 1 credit, follow the instructions below.

This CME activity was planned and produced in accordance with ACCME Standards and Essentials.

Successful completion of this CME activity, which includes participation in the evaluation component, enables the participant to earn up to 35 MOC points in the American Board of Internal Medicine’s (ABIM) Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program. Participants will earn MOC points equivalent to the amount of CME credits claimed for the activity. It is the CME activity provider’s responsibility to submit participant completion information to ACCME for the purpose of granting ABIM MOC credit.

CME Instructions:
There is no paper submission of the test for credit – credit is only award through the online website. Visit the Self-Assessment scoring website at www.sat.gi.org. Access to the scoring site is included with your test booklet. No additional fees apply.
