

A 47 year-old female presents with hematemesis. You treat her bleeding esophageal varices. Her platelet count, albumin level, and prothrombin time are all normal. A liver biopsy is performed.

What is the cause of her portal hypertension?

ANSWER: Schistosomiasis