

This patient has non-productive retching. What is the diagnosis?

ANSWER: Many patients with asymptomatic paraesophageal hernias require surgical repair. If left untreated, there is a risk of incarceration and infarction.